

February 2022

Dear Damien

I hope that you, the staff and students at Axholme Academy are well.

I am writing to you following the GCSE adaptations with regards exams. We have an exceptionally strong relationship with you and recognise that for some students the adaptations and the impacts of Covid might be causing them stress and anxiety which may be heightened with worries around progression.

With regards to progression our intention is to look beyond the grades this summer. We will work closely with you to ensure that students are given the opportunity to progress if they are endorsed by you and your staff.

Last year we offered bespoke transition arrangements for Axholme Academy students as you are a fellow member of NLEC. We will work closely with you to ensure that the transition to John Leggott College is as smooth as possible and that students have a clear understanding of the courses and pathways that they have selected.

Just like you, we expect students to engage, work hard and try their best. We will focus and rely on your reports with regards student effort, motivation and behaviour in our final decisions with regards to admission.

If any of your parents or students have any individual worries or concerns, then they should not hesitate to contact me so that we can reduce any anxiety or worries.

Yours sincerely

Leon Riley
Principal
